MESSAGE FROM THE GENERAL MANAGER

Friends and supporters of RivCoParks,

At the start of 2022-2023, RivCoParks set out to leverage our resources and make progress through connections with our valued partnerships. In this annual report, you'll find the outcomes of that effort reflected as measurements of our success. This past year has been a year of growth, community engagement, and a steadfast commitment to the preservation and enhancement of our treasured parks and open spaces.

Community Engagement: Through various outreach programs, events, and volunteer opportunities, we fostered a sense of ownership and pride among our community members. This year we received heartwarming increase in volunteer hours, up 31% from last year. In addition, 4 community meetings were held in support of project planning and a total of 25 community clean up projects were completed (a 300% increase!). We've reached more people with an impressive 29 million more touchpoints due to our enhanced marketing outreach.

Expansion of Projects: Our investment in the future is evident, with a commendable 62% increase in capital improvement spending and a 77% increase in the number of projects underway. Much of this progress is due to the overwhelming support of our County leaders, the Board of Supervisor's who have allocated ARPA funding to more than 13 parks-related projects.

Enhanced Safety and Engagement: Along with our partners, we've stepped up patrol and engagement efforts in the Santa Ana River Bottom and open space areas, ensuring critical natural resources are protected and accessible to all.

Improved Services: This year, we've seen a remarkable 31% increase in nature/historic program participants demonstrating our commitment to connecting youth with the rich natural and cultural heritage of our region. Overall, our customer satisfaction rating increased by 11% as we renewed our dedication to providing exceptional experiences for everyone who visits our sites.

Preparing for the Future: A robust 24% increase in revenues attests to our financial acumen and community support. These funds have enabled us to reinvest in our parks and broaden our offerings to the public. We have diligently built up reserves, safeguarding our ability to sustainably manage and develop our spaces for generations to come and ensuring we will be more resilient to unforeseen changes.

As we reflect on these achievements, we are deeply grateful for the unwavering support of our dedicated staff, volunteers, partners, and community members. Together, we are forging a brighter, more sustainable future for RivCoParks.

Respectfully,

Kyla Brown
